Are you interested in scheduling additional sessions?

- Yes, I would like to start right away.
 Maybe, after I see the results from this session.
 No, not at this time, but possibly in the future.
 No, I am usually able to move through life with ease.

Heather Anne Harder received her Ph.D. from Indiana State University and is an author, professional speaker, political activist, and modern day mystic. Her coaching is a unique blend of spiritual, professional and personal empowerment. Throughout her professional life she has owned multiple businesses, taught in the public schools, served as a university professor and administrator, headed non profit organizations, and even ran for president. Through her work, Heather has changed lives, and challenged people and organizations to reach beyond the ordinary and dare to experience the extraordinary. She inspires people to transform themselves from Clark Kent to their own unique super man or woman.
